OUR MISSION

We want to curb excessive mobile phone usage in young children through promoting family interaction whilst instilling a sense of responsibility to promote better time management.

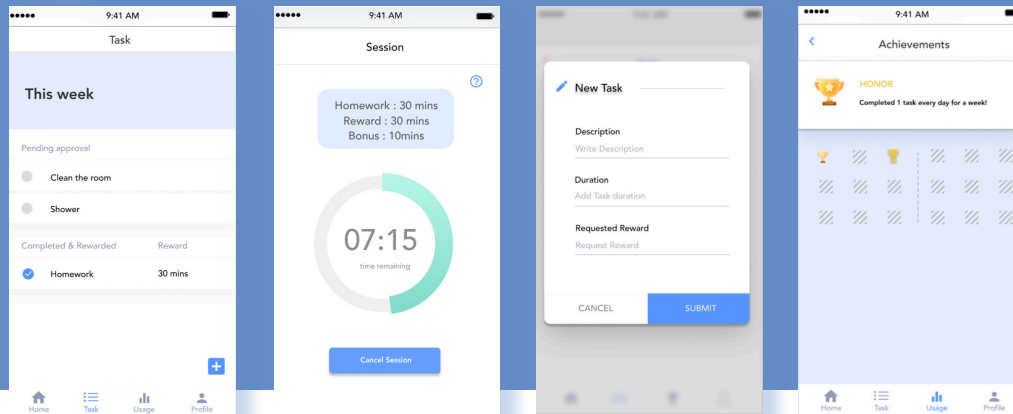

OUR PROCESS

Through plenty of background research and user testing, we've managed to iterate on and improve the overall design and feel of our prototype to better suit our user base.

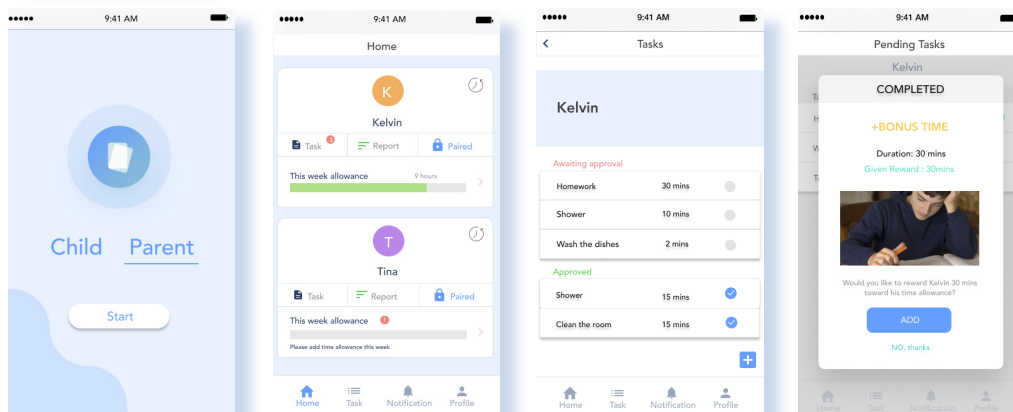

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Unlocked requires all participating family members to synchronize their mobile devices for it to function as intended. The system is split into two main user interface, the child and parent, both of which work together to promote family interaction and responsible mobile device usage.
